FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date December 5, 1963

Father ANTHONY, Ozanam Inn, 829 Camp Street, advised on December 5, 1963 that he knew a Cuban mulatto named RAFAEL HUGO PROMETA who came from New York, he thought, and who was a longshoreman and seaman. He said PROMETA was the RAFAEL referred to by Mr. L. BRIGHT of the New Orleans Printing Company because he said he had discussed this matter with BRIGHT. Father ANTHONY said PROMETA always stayed at the Ozanam Inn when he was in New Orleans and said that his records indicated that PROMETA left on May 26, 1963 after saying he was to sail on a ship to Japan. PROMETA returned to New Orleans on October 16, 1963 and on the 16th and 17th of October surveyed at the Ozanam Inn. Father ANTHONY said PROMETA had communicated to him that he had a job on some ship in Mobile, Alabama. Father ANTHONY said he had no idea where PROMETA could be at the present time, but said in view of the fact that PROMETA stays at the Ozanam Inn when he is in town, he would not have seen OSWALD at the International Trade Mart as the record shows PROMETA was not at the Ozanam Inn during the time OSWALD was passing out literature at the Trade Mart.
